Instructions in Handling of Liferafts used for Training

In order to extend the life of a liferaft for training purposes it is very important to handle it with care and consideration.

The life of the raft may be considerably prolonged if the 3 following points are observed:

- 1 Read the instructions carefully to learn how to board the liferaft by means of the ladders and the boarding ramp. Do NOT use the canopy to get into the raft as the canopy is likely to be torn to pieces which makes you unable to keep out the water and the cold.

Please note:

Do not plug the relief valves until the raft has fully stopped inflating.

In the event of brief drills (i.e. 1 to 2 hours) it is not necessary to plug the relief valves.

- 2 Turning over the liferaft for righting exercise:

Do not pull or lift the stabilizing pockets of the liferaft or the external grab lines as you may tear them to pieces. Use the bridle and the righting device located by the cylinder to help raising the raft. The easiest way to do this is for the raft to be pulled along the edge of the pool while being raised. When holding on to the righting device by the cylinder bag, you are to press the top of the liferaft towards the water which makes it easy for you to turn the raft upside down.

Please note:

Previous to this operation it is important to make sure that all loose parts such as paddles, bellows, repair kit, bailer and the emergency pack are tied to the raft.

Besides, see to it that the emergency pack is sealed and that all valve caps are closed up (on the canopy, canopy arch, buoyancy tubes, and refilling valves) in order to prevent water from penetrating into the inflated parts. If water penetrates into the tubes, a deterioration of the rubber material will take place from within and before this is noticed from without so much damage may have been caused inside that a condemnation of the liferaft is inevitable.

- 3 The drill having ended, the liferaft is to be landed: lift it by the bridle device only. Please notice: NEVER pull or lift it by the external grab line and ladders as they may be torn to pieces because of the considerable weight of the liferaft caused by the stabilizing pockets which are filled with water. Any repairs on these parts are likely to be expensive and in some cases to result in the raft having to be returned to VIKING DENMARK for repairs.

Please note:

Before emptying the raft of air you have to empty it of water to prevent water from penetrating into the tubes, as mentioned in point 2.

CLEANING:

It is vital for the liferaft to be cleaned as quickly as possible after use.

Cleaning must be effected with plenty of fresh water inside and outside. In case the life raft has been used in a dock or the like where the water is not quite pure, a disinfectant must be added to the bucket of water used for wringing the water out of the cloth used for wiping. It is most important to be very meticulous when cleaning to avoid fungal attack. Then wipe the liferaft. Please note that it may take several days for it to be completely dry. Especially in the seams connecting the canopy to the upper tube by glue, inside the stabilizing pockets, and particularly in ropes and bands there may be some mould left when the rest of the raft seems dry.

NEVER let the raft dry in the sun or in the open as the daylight and the sun have a considerably decomposing effect on rubber fabrics.

After the drill you must make sure that no water is let out of the relief valves when inflating the liferaft for cleaning. If so, you will have to blow the inside of the buoyancy dry by means of the compressed-air hose. When the air getting out of the relief valve is dry you can stop blowing.

It is vital for the raft to be completely dry before repacking it. Otherwise oxidation may occur in the rubber fabric owing to mould and metal getting in connection with rubber. If this happens the rubber stiffens and starts crackling and it may be almost impossible to stop which may cause the raft to be condemned.

We trust that these few measures may contribute to increasing the life of practising/training rafts and to reducing the repairs.

AUTORISEREDE VIKING SERVICESTATIONER

Vejledning

Når De ønsker at gøre brug af en af VIKING's autoriserede servicestationer, som er angivet i efterfølgende liste, er der nogle få forholdsregler, hvis overholdelse er en forudsætning for en gnidningsløs afvikling af serviceeftersynet af Deres redningsflåder:

- 1) De bør så tidligt som muligt, enten direkte eller gennem Deres agent, advisere den valgte servicestation om det forestående serviceeftersyn.
- 2) De bedes opgive flådeantal og -størrelser, samt oplyse hvis en eller flere af flåderne har været udløst, f.eks. i forbindelse med end demonstration, et uheld eller en nødsituation.
- 3) Udover skibsnavn og reder bedes De også huske at oplyse skibets registreringsland, da dette på grund af forskellige nationale krav til udstyr og udrustning i flåderne vil være af stor betydning for servicestationerne.

Hvis De i forbindelse med serviceeftersyn af Deres redningsmateriel har noget at udsætte på de i listen opførte stationer, hører vi meget gerne fra Dem.

I henhold til SOLAS konventionen må VIKING opblæsbare redningsflåder kun efterses på autoriserede VIKING servicestationer.

AUTHORIZED VIKING SERVICING STATIONS

Guidance

When you deliver your rafts for servicing at one of the VIKING authorized servicing stations mentioned in this list, we kindly ask you to observe the following measures in order to ensure quick and smooth servicing of your rafts:

- 1) Please advise the servicing station as early as possible regarding the service, either directly or through your agent.
- 2) Please state number and sizes of rafts and whether any of the rafts have been inflated, for instance for a demonstration, by accident, or in an emergency.
- 3) Besides name of ship and owner also please state the registration country of the ship, as this is very important information for the servicing station, due to the different national requirements for the equipment of rafts.

If, in connection with a service inspection of your life-saving equipment, you have any comments or complaints regarding any of the stations mentioned in this list, we would very much like to hear from you.

According to the SOLAS Convention VIKING inflatable liferafts are to be serviced only at authorized VIKING servicing stations.
