Storage and mounting

Choose either a valise or a container

Storage decision depends on your vessel's stowage capabilities. Liferafts should be stored where they are accessible and are able to be deployed within 60 seconds.

VIKING containers may be rail or deck mounted, the versatile easily portable valise should be stowed in a dry area below or in a waterproof deck box.

How to mount a liferaft container.

In addition to a manual, 3D animated mounting instruction films are available on VIKING-Yachting.com, YouTube or by scanning the QR codes.

The mounting brackets are made of high quality stainless steel.

HRU – Hydrostatic Release Unit

A hydrostatic release unit, or HRU, enables liferafts to surface and inflate automatically when a vessel is sinking. Simple to install and releases at all angles – requiring only water pressure to activate.
